

2009 Leadership Visit

MADISON

SOCIAL AGENDA

We work hard on our Leadership Visits but we take a little time to play too! The planning committee and our generous sponsors have organized beautiful events and selected “tasty” and “entertaining” options that show off Madison’s best features. This summary of the 2009 Leadership Visit social events should help you plan for your trip.

Suggested Restaurants

Café Continental

108 King Street

(608) 251-4880

www.znbar.com

Critically acclaimed European cuisine & Italian Specialties. Fresh fish daily - famous for crab cakes - steaks and chops & one-of-a-kind pastas.

Harvest

21 North Pinckney Street

(608) 255-6075

www.harvest-restaurant.com

Our evolving menu takes advantage of the great variety of local and organic ingredients raised by this region's farmers. Named by Organic Style magazine as one of the top 20 restaurants in America, and most recently named one of America's top Farm-to-Table restaurants by Gourmet Magazine. Harvest takes seriously its obligation to our customers of providing the best each season has to offer.

Ocean Grill

117 Martin Luther King Jr. Blvd.

(608) 285-2582

www.oceangrillmadison.com

Voted Best Seafood in Madison in 2006 We are proud to say we serve only the freshest seafood. It is shipped in 6 days a week! To tempt your taste buds, our Chef's cuisine highlights unique flavor combinations from only the freshest seasonal ingredients. Our menu features dishes that are both French and Asian influenced and complemented by locally grown organic herbs and vegetables.

Osteria Papavero

128 East Wilson Street

(608) 255-8376

www.osteriapapavero.com

Chef and Owner Francesco Mangano grew up in Bologna, Italy, in and around his grandparent's osteria. He always wanted to bring that cuisine to his new home in Madison. Osteria Papavero is his venue for many classic Italian dishes and flavors. As a member of the Slow Food movement and a chef with Harvest Restaurant for many years, Francesco has discovered a vast array of sources for his ingredients, utilizing local growers and specialty foods imported from throughout Italy.

Restaurant Magnus

120 East Wilson Street

(608) 258-8787

www.restaurantmagnus.com

Restaurant Magnus uses locally grown, organic produce. Our kitchen has established relationships with dozens of local, organic farmers. They supply the restaurant with fresh organic produce, meats, poultry, eggs and mushrooms. It is not possible to dine at Restaurant Magnus without eating organic or locally grown food.

Restaurant Muramoto

225 King Street

(608) 259-1040

www.muramoto.biz

Shinji Muramoto offers his interpretation of the comparatively young style of cooking that is Asian fusion. It is his belief that this style of cuisine is best experienced in a small-plate format, as it promotes sharing and therefore creates the likelihood that his customers will attempt new things. Shinji brings his methods, ratios, popular ingredients, and even his family recipes from Japan and applies them in such a way that the resulting dishes retain the tradition and elegance that is present in that country's food.

Tornado Steak House

116 South Hamilton

(608) 256-3570

www.tornadosteakhouse.com

Tornado Steak House is Madison's premier downtown steak house offering white-linen dining in a supper club atmosphere. Specialty items include steaks, pork, duck, rabbit, lamb, seafood and fish specials. Join us nightly for award-winning food and cocktails.
