

EVENT CONDUCT POLICY:

Commerce Lexington Inc. hosts events for the benefit of our members and our guests. We host these events to provide educational and informational forums for our members and guests. To assure the quality of our events and to make sure they serve the purposes for which we host them, the following policies and procedures apply:

- No disruptive or inappropriate behaviors or conduct, including but not limited to interrupting speakers, heckling speakers or displaying signs (other than Commerce Lexington or sponsors' signs), will be allowed inside the event space.
- Commerce Lexington will have staff on-site at events to ensure our policies and procedures are followed.
- Anyone engaging in disruptive or inappropriate behaviors or conduct, including but not limited to interrupting speakers, heckling speakers or displaying signs, may be asked to cease the behavior or conduct immediately; may be asked to leave the event; and/or may be banned from future Commerce Lexington events.

Thank you for your cooperation in observing Commerce Lexington's Event Conduct Policy to ensure a quality event for all participants.
