Day 2 Sessions Focus on What Makes Boise Unique; Afternoon Features Elective Options

As we begin day two in Boise, think about what you saw and heard yesterday. Don't forget to log in your ideas and provide feedback on Tuesday's sessions using SLIDO.

Our morning will start with a session entitled "Boise's Tipping Points," during which we'll learn from the perspective of several key Boise leaders on what they think changed Boise forever and what has made the big differences that put Boise among the country's top-ranked cities.

The next session will focus on how Boise has been so successful in attracting jobs and talent from some of the nation's biggest markets. Like Lexington, Boise is considered a second tier city in terms of economic development, has a unique brand, and is known as great place to live and raise a family.

Finally, we'll hear from Mayor David Bieter, a native of Boise and now the city's longest-serving Mayor, having served since 2003. Yesterday, we heard about Boise's "cool" factor, but Mayor Bieter will give his perspective on how Boise has become one of the nation's fastest-growing cities.

This afternoon, you'll have an opportunity to get out and experience Boise on your own or through several elective options outlined in your briefing book. See Angela Carlos for availability on any of the options. While you're participating in your Learn at Lunch and/or Discover Boise options, be sure to post your photos on social media using the hashtags #bgvisit and #lexky, so people back home can see what you're experiencing.

This evening, you won't want to miss a unique Leadership Visit networking tradition - the Bank Reception & Dinner from 6:30 - 9:00 p.m. at The Arid Club. Be sure to THANK YOUR BANK, and let them know how much you appreciate their involvement in this key event.
